

Marion Studios Find Men Just as Vain as Women When Being Photographed

Desire To Be Pictured Attractively Not Solely a Feminine Trait

WOMEN are not more vain than men, according to the opinions of various Marion photographers. Vanity shows itself in men and women alike.

"I've got more hair than that!" "Say! Those wrinkles don't belong to me!" "What's wrong with your camera?" These are a few of the complaints photographers are compelled to contend with when people see the likeness of themselves.

COOPER
BATTERIES
MALO BROS.

Women, on the other hand, are harder to photograph. They fuss and fume just because they want their photograph to look nice. Their hair must be just so. There must be no wrinkles in their dresses. Their heads must hang straight. They are not necessarily more self-conscious, but are decidedly anxious to look beautiful.

Not Particular at First
The man comes in, plunks himself down, gives his coat collar a jerk, and maybe straightens his tie, and says, "Go ahead. Shoot. Shoot. Get this thing over with."

But afterwards—well, afterwards, he often wants the picture touched up a little more than the photographer, knowing human nature, has already done with utmost care and professional skill.

Women, after the picture is taken, either like it or they don't. Less seldom do they ask to have the nose straightened, the wrinkles taken out, or other supposed defect eliminated. They simply want it taken over again.

Man Not Particular in Posing, but Usually Wants Photo "Touched Up"

When men come to the studio, they expect their pictures to show every bit of character they possess. Perhaps they know that it is an advertisement of themselves. Those of the opposite sex want their picture to be beautiful, even though it may not portray their actual features true to life.

Dress Feature Important
Women are harder to photograph successfully to satisfy themselves and the photographer. Men usually wear dark suits, and dark colors do not detract attention from the face. Women make it harder, partly because of their lack of judgment in choosing their clothes for photographic purposes. Walter Weber, of Master Studio, has settled this question to his entire satisfaction. He says: "Wear what is natural. If you are inclined to be stout, wear dark colors, long sleeves of heads, and if possible, a dress with severe lines and a V neck. Dress your hair so the forehead shows. A woman with a thick neck should never wear a choker."

He states that small women should wear just the opposite. If she has dark hair, wear what she is accustomed to wearing, but if she has light hair, she should wear a dress of darker color, to make her face and hair stand out. Light fluffy dresses become a small woman much better than long slender-lined things. They are better appearing if they wear short strings of beads and dresses with round necks. All photographers warn against the wearing of ornaments or brilliants when having a picture taken. Jewelry, used moderately, is always good.

Favors "Make-Up"
Weber, contrary to many other photographers, recommends the use of lip-stick and eyebrow pencil and rouge, if used mildly. He does not approve, however, of the use of powder, as it deadens the picture, and takes away all the high lights that are so essential to a good photo. The idea that the use of rouge makes the cheeks look hollow in a picture is not in accord with Weber's views.

S. M. Pontius, of the Pontius Studio gives his opinion that men, or rather some types of men, are more vain than women. He says that the most perplexing type he has to deal with are the ones that come in wearing a plug hat, full dress suit, spots, and a cane and maybe a gardenia in their button-hole. He states that as he deals mostly with women and babies, his opinion is in no way official. He also blames self-consciousness in inferior complex, and believes that men are more affected with the fault than the women.

Ritzzy Rosalie

ROSALIE has been given the very pleasant task of selecting a handbag for one of her resort bound cousins. She thinks these two envelope purses from Vienna answer the purpose, but she can't decide between them. Both have amusing figures. They are children with plastic wood hair. One is applied on felt and the other acts as a puller to the slide fastening on a wool-embroidered bag. She thinks she'll take the one with the slide fastening on so she can slip in one of the new enamel watches, which are "pupper thin" and the width of a $20 gold piece. It was created especially to be carried in this fashion and Rosalie knows her favorite cousin will be delightfully surprised. Copyright 1929, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Center at, warns against "posing". He says, "The way to pose for your photo is not to pose at all. Don't least upon having your friends look at you while you are having your picture taken. That is likely to make you self-conscious. Best results come from natural pose and expression that isn't forced."

He also states that he does not favor the use of powder or rouge, but says eyebrow pencil and lipstick, if used moderately, help the picture. Have your picture taken on the spur of the moment, is the advice of Adam Bauer, South Main st. photographer.

"Most people plan to have their pictures taken at least a week after they have made up their minds. If they would not think about it until the last minute, everything would be lovely, but as it is, they have it on their mind for a week or two, and when they eventually appear at the studio, they have just come from the hair-dresser, the manicurist, and are very self-conscious." He refers, of course, to women.

About Equal
There is little difference between men and women when it comes to having pictures taken," Bauer says. "Most of them are self-conscious and in regard to vanity, both are about equal."

Bauer is of the opinion, however, that men are ordinarily anxious to have their photographs true to life. "If they have defects on their faces, they would rather have no changes made than spoil the likeness or some of the character portrayed."

In the opinion of Bauer, a three-quarter front view is the best to portray the true features.

He agrees with other local photographers in stating that pictures are most satisfactory when one does not "pose."

The most attractive of all persons having their pictures taken, are, in the opinion of most photographers, babies and other young children. They are interested in everything and are not the least self-conscious.

One doesn't expect them to pipe up with the exclamation, "What? No birds?" Sarcastic and cynicism come only with age.

The young people of today want just photographs. This effect can be secured with back-lighting effects, modernistic backgrounds, and various other devices clever people think up. They leave the decisions to their parents, or to the classmates, if they are in school. If one likes the picture, they all approve it.

Most persons whose business it is to reproduce likenesses of the human race will agree that 80 per cent of the people have no idea what they want when they come to have their pictures taken. It is better so in most cases, Marion photographers say.

The artist behind the camera knows just what should be done and can take a better picture by himself than if he tries to comply with the demands of the customer.

An Easy Way to Get Enough Vegetables!

Some people know all about the value of various vegetables, and the reader may know just which vegetables aid the inner system most. But it's another thing to eat them in sufficient quantities.

Why not get the benefit of their goodness in the pleasant form of syrup pepsin?

Were you ever told there is as much good in a spoon of plain syrup pepsin as one would get from a basketful of vegetables? Those who have learned this secret of good health don't have to pamper their stomachs, or whip-up their bowels with strong medicines. They seldom, if ever, have liver trouble and can usually eat anything.

Investigate syrup pepsin before you give up rich foods or go on a dull vegetable "diet." Just take a spoonful of syrup pepsin now and then—and forget everything else but appetite at the table! If you never made the syrup pepsin test, days may do surprising things for you—no matter how "set" you may now. Children are helped wonderfully by this same skillful combination of laxative herbs and pepsin. Older people ward off exhaustion the same way. It is the only syrup since Dr. Call gave the world this prescription. Today there is no druggist who has it all put up and ready for your directions.

SMITH BROTHERS Triple Action COUGH SYRUP

"I light a Lucky and go light on the sweets

That's how I keep in good shape and always feel peppy."

Alolson
Famous comedian and star of soap.

Something sensible. "Better to light a Lucky whenever you crave fattening sweets." It brings to men the health and vigor that come with avoiding overweight. To women it offers a slender, fashionable figure.

20,679 physicians have stated that Lucky Strike is less irritating to the throat than other cigarettes. Very likely this is due to toasting—which removes impurities. This same process, toasting, improves and develops the flavor of the world's finest tobaccos. This means that there is a flavor in Lucky which is a delightful alternative for the things that make you fat. That's why "It's Toasted" is your assurance that there's real health in Lucky—they're good for you!

Keep fit—reach for a Lucky instead of a fattening sweet. That's what many men have been doing for years. They know the evidence of prominent athletes whose favorite cigarette is Lucky Strike and who say Lucky steady their nerves and do not impair their physical condition.

A reasonable proportion of sugar in the diet is recommended, but the authorities are overwhelming that too many fattening sweets are harmful and that too many such are eaten by the American people. So, for moderation's sake we say—

"REACH FOR A Lucky INSTEAD OF A SWEET."

HOLD MAN IN DEATH OF BEATEN WOMAN

Police Say He Tells Conflicting Stories; Admits Quarreling

CINCINNATI, Jan. 21.—With the arrest of one man, whose name was not disclosed, police today believed they had solved the death of Mrs. Ivy Pearl Demman, 37, who was beaten into unconsciousness by an assailant at her home here Tuesday night. The woman died last night in a hospital here.

At first, the attack was ascribed to a pet Airselle dog, that Mrs. Demman kept as a watchdog. Police, however, were not satisfied with the explanation and continued their investigation. The arrest was made late yesterday. Though the man's name was not disclosed, it is understood that he is the proprietor of a store at Twenty Mile station, Clermont county. He is said to be wealthy.

The man told conflicting stories when questioned concerning the death of the woman, police said. He admitted quarreling with the woman early Tuesday night, but said he was at his home when the attack is thought to have occurred.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Most women can have, Dr. F. M. Edwards for 20 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave his patients a substitute for calomel made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. Know them by their olive color.

These tablets are water-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system. If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results. Every Woman Wants a Home.

Back in 1922, two thrifty Chicago brothers
and business partners conceived the idea of
enjoying married life at a decided reduction
in the cost ordinarily experienced by people
in their circumstances. Their idea was that,
aside from the additional cost of food and
clothing, two families could live as cheaply
as one by living in the same dwelling. One car would do for both; one telephone would suffice. Why two refrigerators when one would serve the purpose? Their plan would mean the cutting in half of the fuel bill and the work of looking after the furnace. The lighting, water and the ice bills would be halved, and one piano and one Victrola would furnish them music. It was a great scheme.
They knew it. So they and their sweethearts
were married at a double wedding, which
saved the cost of an extra marriage ceremony,
and the four moved into abode.

The two brothers breakfasted together,
went to work and returned home together.
What the wives did during the day hasn't developed, but the four dined together and
at night sat in the living room together and the brothers talked business. It was a great life for the brothers, but hardly so much
could be said for the lives of the wives. It is a miracle that they stood it the seven years
they did. They were unhappy. Each wife felt that her husband had more in common with his brother than he had with her. They resented the lack of attention from their husbands, and there were quarrels, and the up-
shot was the filing by the wives of two divorce proceedings, almost identical in terms,
in which extreme cruelty was charged.

Had they but known it, the brothers' plan
for household economies was doomed to failure from the first. Few houses are big enough for two women. No house is big enough for two women whose rights and responsibilities are equal. Every married woman wants a home of her own, no matter
what her circumstances may be, to manage
and care for as her own, and she should have it. It may do to live with her husband's people or her own people for a time,
but only for a time. Sooner or later, such a course leads to a feeling of restraint,
dissatisfaction and unhappiness. Every young couple should have what to them is a home, even though it be limited to a room
or two. Any other course will be recognized as a mistake with the passing years.

A Penalty of Prominence.

One of the big news services recently
carried a New York story giving the New York World as authority for the statement
that a twenty-three-year-old second cousin
of General John J. Pershing was the leader of a demonstration before the British consulate
in that city, some days before, in protest against the arrest in India of E. W. Johnston,
a labor agitator.

It was set out that the demonstrators
carried placards reading "Down with imperialism," and the story went on to say that
young Pershing, who was said to be a field
organizer for the All-American Anti-imperial League of America, was knocked down by one of the policemen in dispersing
the gathering. It may be said, in passing,
that he got what he probably deserved.

"After young Pershing's release from a two-year sentence in a military prison at San Francisco," the wire further stated, "he had enlisted in the army in 1924 and with five companions was arrested in Honolulu for robbery, grand larceny and house-breaking for attempting to burn a disorderly house."

We cite this story not because of any merit
it may possess, for it is without merit, but merely as an illustration of one of the penalties of attaining prominence in the public eye. Had General Pershing been a captain, a major, a colonel, or possibly a brigadier general, in the regular army, he probably would not have even his name in connection with
the case, but because of his military record,
because of the fact that he is one of the very few men to have attained the rank of general
in the United States army and because of the fact that he was in command of all the American troops on the western front in the World war, his name has been dragged
into the story, and it's possible that the same thing has happened each time the young man
has offended against the law.

It is stated that young Pershing is a second cousin of General Pershing, but the result would probably have been just the same
had he not been more than a thirty-second cousin. It is possible that the name would have offered sufficient excuse for dragging in
the general's name.

The case is not at all exceptional. Scarcely
any man or woman prominent in public life
escapes experiences of the kind, and very often they never even so much as heard of the persons with whose misdoings their names are connected. Very frequently the relationship is wholly imaginary. And even should it be real and as far removed as that of second cousin, why should prominent people be dragged into stories of the wrongdoings of
people thus distantly related to them?

It's probably the misfortune of all of us
that if we go back far enough, or go far enough away in blood lines we will find some
with whose names we would not care to have our own linked in type. There are few families without the proverbial black sheep.
Why exploit the misdoings of the black sheep
at the expense of the honored and honorable
members of the family?

Mr. Hoover is quoted as saying that "It is one of the most profound and important of exact psychological truths that man in the mass does not think, but only feels." That hordes of office-seekers must have caught his ent.

The Packers and Sausage Manufacturers' association has announced that $50,000,000
frankfurters were eaten by the people of the United States last year. Hot dog?

The note which led to the restoration of the bust of Alexander Hamilton to its place
in the Hall of Fame rather goes to indicate that the disappearance was due to a college
boy's lust.

The Atlantic Monthly has discontinued publication of its Lincoln letters. It may be just as well. Granting that Lincoln was a remarkable character, it's hardly probable that he could have written about incidents before
they occurred or people before they were born.

Home owners may just as well begin
figuring on making the roofs of their properties projectile proof. A $5,000,000
corporation has been organized to sell airplanes on the installment plan.

The United States has paid the North German Lloyd Steamship company $2,000,000,
the first installment to the company on an agreement for restitution for property taken
over when this country entered the World war. The Allies put on poor faces, but were they to reimburse Germany for the property
they took from her, it would come pretty
close to bankrupting them.

The police of Chicago, between Sunday
morning and Monday night, rounded up 3,394
suspects. Quite a big! Still, it may be remembered that they traveled over practically
every territory for law enforcement.

There seems to be a lot of speculation regarding the possibility that former Governor
Smith will call on Mr. Hoover in Miami.
There shouldn't be. If Mr. Smith goes to Miami, it's a claim that he will personally
congratulate his recent political opponent.
That's the way he is built.

Former Queen Maria and Prince Carol are said to have combined to secure the Roumanian throne for the latter. And right along we have held Marie to be one of those
women who knew how to let well enough
alone!

Eleven New Yorkers, given thirty day
prison sentences for speeding, were handcuffed together and compelled to walk from
the traffic court to The Tomb, as an object lesson. That may have a good effect, provided
the press didn't give the thing much "art"
publicity. If the newspapers did, there's trouble ahead. The country is full of people
willing to go to prison to get their pictures
into the papers.

Don't Neglect Trifling Ailment.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

There is an old saying, frequently quoted nowadays: "Take care of the pennies and the dollars
will take care of themselves." That is the admonition of prudence.

I shall not attempt to discuss the social or economic significance of thrift. Personally, I believe in it. But I do wish to impress upon you that I am able, the importance of taking care of the trifling ailments, the little illnesses, the commonly overlooked defects of the body.

Serious disease is almost always the result of neglect. I do not refer to immediate, recent, occasional neglect. I have in mind the long continued failure to give attention to some minor trouble.

We don't know much about cancer, certainly as regards its cause. But it is perfectly safe to say that in persons in perfect health will not be set upon by this dread disease. Lowered resistance
must be present or else cancer would not find its way into the body.

Perfect health may be compared to a powerful magnet. When the modern body is closed and locked, it will protect the valuable against the poor, the good against the common burglar, and even the expert safe-cracker.

The strength of the vault may be compared to the resistance of the body. It guards against all enemies.

When I was a boy the wife in my father's office
was attacked by burglars. They were burglars and made little progress except to break the combination lock. They left it so nobody could open the vault by the ordinary method.

An expert from the factory was called upon to open the door. The first thing he did was to drill a small hole through the steel, above the lock. In course of time this was through the plate and permitted tools to be admitted for manipulation
of the machinery. It was not long then before the door was open.

Some of the "minor diseases" drill holes into the body, if I may use that figure. Through these openings the more important diseases find their way. They take firm hold on the tissues. After a time the victim finds himself in the clutches of a serious ailment.

Abuse of the stomach is the common practice of the human family. Who knows what the undernourishment following prolonged dyspepsia may lead to in the development of cancer?

There is no doubt that the neglect of common
things, like bad teeth, disease of the mouth or tonsils,
running eye and even pus-filled skin eruptions,
may prepare the way for some really serious infection. The ordinary illnesses, the common ailments of everyday life, have an important bearing
on the general state of health.

Chronic constipation, repeated colds, intestinal
diseases—all these bear a relationship to serious
disease. We must not neglect them.

If you take care of the simple diseases, the big ones will take care of themselves. You will be putting money in the bank of health by acting on this suggestion.

SENATE AND CRUISERS.

While there are said to be enough votes in the senate favorable to the "cruiser bill" sent up from the house last session to pass it apparently they are to be cast only over the unimprovingly-speaking dead bodies of Senator Norris and his party of followers. These gentlemen, with the usual party rattled and in their quiver, will not turn on the
cruiser bill and read it, as unimprovingly as the
cruiser bill and read it, as unimprovingly as the
cruiser bill and read it, as unimprovingly as the crucifixion of the American navy. They have neither facts nor logic on their side, but that has never yet deterred determined

senators from muddling the waters of legislation.
A navy that is not strong enough to protect this country against any possible attack from abroad
is not an adequate navy. Such a navy involves a rough parity with the strongest navy afloat, whatever foreign country may possess it. At the Washington conference, which was hailed as a peace
move, a ratio of 5:3 was fixed for capital ships
for the United States, Great Britain and Japan.
At the subsequent Geneva talks, Great Britain
accepted in principle the application of the 5:3
ratio to cruisers. The United States, it is now proposed, this country shall build without limit
up to 150,000 tons to our cruiser tonnage—and yet
leave it more than 50,000 tons below Great Britain. That would seem fair enough.

The only other way of obtaining parity between American and British light cruiser strength is for Great Britain to scrap some of her tonnage. This she refused to do. She claimed she needed it all for defense. We need just as increased a tonnage for the same reason. There is no more equity toward Great Britain implied in building up our navy than there is equity in this country implied in her refusal to cut hers down.
The senate should forget international personalities
and take its stand squarely for a navy able to defend this country against the heaviest load of metal
that can be dropped onto it by any other nation
whenever it may choose to do so.

A navy that can be blown out of the water before it registers a hit against the enemy is an expensive luxury. That is about the condition the American navy is in today. The addition of fifteen light cruisers and six aircraft
carriers will by no means make it the strongest navy in the world, but it will bring it nearer to an all-around 5:3 ratio with Great Britain and Japan than it represents today.

The senate should pass the cruiser bill, with the
time clause in it, with as little delay as possible
and without again stirring up apprehensions and alarms at home and abroad that the bill in no wise justified.—Detroit Free Press.

A DIFFERENT JOHN D.

In from the golf links comes old John D. Rockefeller, Sr., to lead the reserves, if not the vanguard,
in the younger Rockefeller's battle to out Colonel Robert W. Stewart from the throne of Standard Oil of Indiana.

A up and tuck fight it is going to be, apparently, with the Indiana company's directors and
employee-stockholders defending the Stewart ram-
parts and the heirs of the original lords of Standard
Oil marching under the Rockefeller oriflamme.

Time was when the power of the old John D. was
a fact automatically have put the sympathies of
most of the rest of the country behind the other faction. Citizens would not have stopped to ask what it was all about. The mere presence of Rockefeller in one camp would have sent them into
the other, no matter whose it was.

All that is changed now. Here we find John D. going into battle with a preponderance of American sentiment not against him, but for him. Not because it is an alleged America, but because it is an alleged Rockefeller that now marches forth
to combat.

Of a thousand conflicts in the days of old, the elder Rockefeller lost only one, and that was his contest with public opinion. He learned two decades ago that public opinion was not to be beaten in the long run. Macmillan, it is his new respect for public opinion that now stirs him, in his bare and yellow years, to join the assault on the Stewart position. For Colonel Stewart has deftly pulled the public opinion. Wherefore old John D., for once, marches into the fray to the tune of cheers
instead of hisses.—Minneapolis Journal.

McIntyre on Vacation.

BY O. O. MINTYRE.

HAVER, Jan. 24.—The Normandy coast and its perpetually sad, drizzle. But in five hours
we will be thundering into Paris and perhaps more rain. The practical points with their blue blouses, garlic breath, and their red hands swarmed aboard each. The ship was a tippling them is optional
and that's a grand laugh.

Having subsisted on tea, fruits and salted
nuts for the voyage, there was a magic in
the sudden restoration of appetite the minute
I stepped on land, and breakfast at a modest little pension a few steps from the pier never tasted so good. There was a relish even to the chicken coffee.

The dinky little boat trains with their
doleful peevish whistles puffed patiently in
the dock sheds waiting for custom clearance.
Nobody ever quits a steamer without leaving something behind. You may ransack your cabin with a fine-tooth comb and return later
to find perhaps a bass drum. All I left was an overcoat.

Just as in every other seaport in the world,
one is certain to meet at Havre—the "Mac"
from Cook's. I do not go on Cook tours,
but I find a Cook guide indispensable in cutting the annoying little tangles of red tape,
relieving you of the tipping and assisting you
through customs. And for a modest pourboles.

Prowling through one of the ancient streets
of Havre a voice from a dingy little shop
called my name. Out nosed an old woman
in sabots, stooped and supported by a crooked
stick. Many years ago she was a chamber-maid at a New York hotel, and with her savings had purchased the little fly-blown store.

The clomp of the stocky belted horses on the cobblestones, the rude tattoo of wooden shoes, the rhythmic pulsing of the sea and the tantalizing smells of sausage wine and delicious pastries make Havre pleasant for the voyager. And, of course, the curious jumble of French passantry—staring one out of countenance.

Old world obedience to plume and feathers
was marked here. On the ship was a three-belled early whom nobody noticed. And yet
at Havre the mayor in all his regalia, accompanied by an eight-piece band, arrived
with a fanfare of trumpets to welcome him in his hour's stay.

O, yes, at breakfast the French pride in its culinary skill was illustrated. It was only a three-table cafe to which you walked through a kitchen of shiny pots and pans. I ordered an omelette and when the cook
lifted the lid with the customary flourish an edge was scorched. He was disappointed.
Thought he was going to have a spell as he
tossed it out a window with a curse and made another. Chefs are decorated in France and monuments are erected to them. One begins
to understand faintly why the immortal cook
of one of the Louis—the 14th, I think—fell
on his sword after he burned the fish.

I have always thought what leisure I had
in life—not devoted to waiting for my wife
to attend the theater—might be profitably spent in a seacoast town. Inland cities are standardized, but seaports are not. Mar-sailles, Cherbourg and Havre offer the same
architecture, but they are as different as San Francisco, Naples and Hong Kong. And the tag of adventure is irresistible.

Walking with my head knocking the stars
along the rock sea wall at Havre, for instance, I was overwhelmed by an enthusiasm
to escape the hum-drum of a disordered life
of petty scribbling in New York and retire
somewhere to solitude—you know, "Real Work and the Lonely Way." In Paris or New York I would never give way to such ridiculous musings.

The leisure of Europe is always appealing
at least for a few weeks. Two hours to dawdle over luncheon. Sauntering down the boulevards to sip an aperitif at a sidewalk
cafe. Nine-o'clock dinners, etc. For the laggard it becomes a pleasing sorority, but
after a short while the time drags and one
wants to return to clock punching and hurry-luncheons. The old dog and new tricks.

If one must take to till drinking and low living, France is the ideal spot. On a narrow crooked street in Havre the American high
ball was advertised for three francs—twelve
cents—and lodging overhead was five francs—
twenty cents—with breakfast.—Copyright,

The Winter Stars.

As we face southward in the middle of winter evening the huge dark bulk of the earth under the North star looms up like
the glowing center of the Milky way in-

plies of lights throws but a glow upon the ground of space.

But in compensation we behold above us
southern horizon the most brilliant assemblage of nearer stars that the sky anywhere presents to the eyes of this world.
It must have been the recollection of this glowing center of the Milky way that

uncovered immensity, these mighty stars

Seven Counties With Marion as Center Contribute 69 Deaths to Crossing Toll

Map prepared by the Ohio State Automobile association showing the number of motorists instantly killed at railroad crossings in counties of Ohio from 1911 to 1924.

Crawford and Hardin Counties, Each with 16 Lives Lost, Lead This District, Franklin, with 77. Has State's Highest Total

Trying to beat the train to the crossing is a hazardous and usually a losing and risky business.

This is graphically illustrated in the map reproduced here, recently prepared by the Ohio State Automobile association in its campaign for grade crossing elimination and for greater caution on the part of motorists in approaching railroad tracks.

The map shows the number of motorists in each county instantly killed at railroad crossings from 1921 to Oct. 1, 1928.

Marion county, where officials have not seen fit thus far to take part in the grade crossing elimination program is charged with 11 deaths during that period.

Deaths in District
Deaths in counties bordering on Marion county are listed as follows: Crawford 10, Wood 5, Hardin 16, Union 5, Delaware 3 and Morrow 1. This makes a total of 40 lives sacrificed in the Marion county district in less than four years.

Marion county commissioners, although admitting that the grade crossing menace is one of the most serious traffic problems, have refused up to this time to join with the state in its plan of crossing elimination. The stand taken by the commissioners is that the percentage of expense which the county is required to pay is too large.

The state has set aside an appropriation of $1,000,000 annually to speed up the work of closing down these dangerous crossings. This appropriation is being made in part as a result of efforts put forth by the state automobile association.

Franklin, highest figures given in its accompanying map show that Franklin county leads the list of instant deaths at grade crossings with 77. Crawford county is second with 72. Morrow is third with 72 and Hardin is fourth with 64. Not more than a half dozen counties have a clear record with no deaths while those of 10 or more are in the list with one or more deaths.

In return, the map of the state automobile association makes these comments: Further, under the lights of the death toll in grade crossing accidents in Ohio in the past 18 months, it is a fact that many deaths resulting from injuries sustained in these disasters are preventable.

Appalling as these statistics may appear, the greater number of failures on the part of many motorists to adhere to the repeated warnings to Stop, Look and Listen before attempting to cross railroad tracks is safe to say that the most of the accidents were preventable and that had those responsible adhered to all of the rules of safety, hundreds who were the victims of such careless moves would have been spared to lives of usefulness.

Only Part of Toll
While the above illustration tells the story of the who instantly 1 of these lives in the year 1928, it does not tell the whole story. It does not tell the story of the who were injured and crippled for life and the many others who were injured in a more or less serious degree.

Just as trains approach a crossing in all haste or when there are fast tracks at the rate of 38 feet a minute. This fact is based on the speed of 60 miles an hour, which may seem somewhat high, but the ratio is the same in all a slighter degree where the train travels at 30 to 40 miles an hour, which is normal speed for most of them.

This being the case, it is only a small part of the toll that the train carries.

Appalling Totals
In ten years more than 20,000 persons have been killed in highway accidents in Ohio and in the

than 57,000 seriously injured on major steam railroads throughout the United States. This does not include those killed or injured at crossings on smaller steam railroads or electric lines.

There are in the country as a whole more than 20,000 unprotected crossings, while in addition to that number there are more than 2,000 which are in a measure protected by gates, watchmen or signals of some variety. The Ohio State Automobile association stands for some kind of protection worth while at all grade crossings but better still the removal of all such hazardous places in the highways.

PARTY PLANNED

Girl Reserves Arrange Valentine Event for Feb. 12

A program was given and business transacted at a meeting of the Girl Reserves of Vernon Heights Junior high school Tuesday afternoon in the school building. The treasurer reported that $4.10 had been cleared in a candy sale held at a cafeteria supper Friday night. It was decided that the last 15 minutes of each meeting be given over to basketball. Plans were made for a Valentine party for members, Feb. 12 at the home of Miss Helen Bailey, East Church st. Devotions for the meeting were in charge of Miss Lois Hume.

A short program was given, including a song, "Follow the Glean," by all members, a piano solo, "Holic's Return," by Miss Hume, and a poem, "Nobility," by Miss Doris Roberts. The next meeting will be held Jan. 20 at the school.

Meditations OF A Married Woman

—BY HELEN HOWLAND—

AND STILL WE LOVE THEM

A KISS is something that a small girl endures, a fool begs for, a lover takes, a husband accepts, and an old man buys.

An idealist is a man who believes that "the next girl" will be the ideal woman of his vision—and is shocked when he wakes up to discover that she is just another human being.

After thirty the average woman finds out that happiness consists largely in being satisfied with "substitution"—coffee-klene, balcony seats and the vicarious thrills of a movie love-scene.

Schoolgirls have at last discovered how to control the sex of a child, they say. Of course! Just as the sex has ceased to matter and you can't tell one sex from another, after the child is fifteen!

A man no longer exclaims, "I must have lost my head!" when he kisses a girl. In fact he knows she'd think him a little unbalanced if he didn't kiss her.

There never yet lived a man who didn't think that he could nonchalantly "cut the wire" of romance—and then come back and turn on the current at his own sweet will.

The man who has brains enough to fool a jealous woman usually has sense enough not to try.

One reason why a woman tries to avoid a divorce is because she hates to feel that all her effort to make a man over into a reasonable human being will be wasted on another woman.

Of course, it's bad luck for a cat or a blonde to cross a man's path—usually his wife's bad luck.

Cardinal Points of Business Success Discussed at Kiwanis Meeting

"How are you measuring up?" was the theme of an address given by A. L. Schmid, general sales manager of the Woodson Spice Co. of Toledo, before members of the Kiwanis club at the regular weekly luncheon of that organization today.

To measure up in this great business of life Mr. Schmid first listed cardinal points. The first is knowledge. The second is confidence. The third is clean memory. The fourth is resourcefulness and tact. Each of these points was forcefully explained and illustrated by Mr. Schmid.

Commemorating the founding of the Kiwanis club 15 years ago this week, Dr. James W. McIlroy, gave a short history of Kiwanism since its foundation.

"Lilac Time" with Colleen Moore, First National production. At the Oakland through tonight.

MARION is getting a second glimpse this week at "Lilac Time," featuring Colleen Moore. Some time ago the picture played a run at a downtown house and the Oakland is now offering it.

"Lilac Time" has been one of the successful pictures of the season. Taken from the play of Jane Cowell and Jane Murfin, the movie men have given it a version adaptable to the needs of Colleen Moore. Likewise they have revamped the story to make an "air thriller" out of it.

"Lilac Time" is worth while.

THE little French girl becomes fascinated with the English air and it is with his adventures and her worries that the picture concerns itself.

The aviation scenes are very remarkable and offer sufficient thrills. The cast is quite adequate.

ICE ON RIVER AIDS RUM "IMPORTERS"

Automobiles and Scows Used To Transport Liquor Cargoes

DETROIT, Jan. 21—Six inches of ice, interrupted only by 200 feet of open water in the Detroit river, is enabling downriver "importers" to reap a harvest in rum-running, according to reports today.

Applying inventive genius the rum smugglers have evoked a simple but speedy method of conveying their cargo from the Canadian shore to the American shore. Innumerable looking automobiles drive up to export docks on the Canadian side, where their cargoes, "assigned to Cuba," are loaded into scows. The scows are then bled to the rear of the automobiles and zig-zagged across the ice to the open channel near the American side.

Here the scows are pushed into the ice-choked water where their crews make a hasty passage through the ice blocks to land on the American side, spectators say, the automobiles meanwhile hitting on two empty scows and speeding back to the export docks.

At least four cars spent a busy afternoon yesterday, according to one eye-witness, who said that after the loaded scows had disappeared in the ice-choked water, the "importers" hurried away from the bouthouses and headed toward Detroit.

TRAIL MISSING GIRLS INTO SOUTHERN OHIO

Trace Found of Two of Marion School Trio, Judge Hears

Reports from southern Ohio today stated that trace of two of the three high school girls missing from here had been found. The girls named in the report were Mary Jeannette Todd, 18, of North State st., and Helen Bradshaw, 16, of Park st.

The reports were received by Judge Louis B. McNeal, of the juvenile court, from parents of the girls. Whether Wanda Clark, 23, of Edwards st., the third member of the trio, was still with the Bradshaw and Todd girls is not known.

Judge McNeal did not learn of the girls' whereabouts until he was located by the parents, who were in southern Ohio conducting a search for the missing trio.

The three girls were last seen Tuesday morning walking south toward Columbus. A man told authorities that three girls had asked him for a ride but as he was going only a short distance he refused to grant the request.

Columbus police have been asked to keep on the lookout for the three runaways.

Judge Orders Couple To Separate; They Remarry

CLEVELAND, Jan. 21—Judge Harrison Ewing, who stirred up a storm of criticism last month when he instructed a young couple, with several children, who were seeking a divorce, to practice birth control for a period of three years, was chuckling a bit today.

After the famous birth control edict, the judge later demanded that the man and wife separate. But it developed that they have reunited.

"I knew that if I told them they couldn't live together, they would," the judge chuckled.

THE Myrtle Ross Players present "The Unkissed Bride," through Saturday at The Grand.

IF you don't want to take on a melodrama don't go to see the current production at The Grand, for it packs plenty of laughs from start to finish. It is hard to believe, if titles mean anything, for "The Unkissed Bride" savors of Bertha Clay and other favorite authors of a decade or two ago when the reader wept buckets of tears over the persecuted heroine or the deserted bride.

Myrtle Ross runs true to form as the efficient stenographer in the office of John Reynolds, (Jack Gordon), and anticipates his needs and business deals a week ahead, carrying them out to the letter. Dick Dickinson makes merry as a "screw" as does also Ernest Sharpsteen, the frivolous uncle from the west. The entire cast puts the show over in its usual style with a pleasant memory.

There's nothing much to the play but a lot of laughs and entertainment.

FRIED AGAIN HERO IN OCEAN DISASTER

U. S. Liner Captain Takes 32 Men Off Sinking Vessel

The freighter. They could hear the Florida exchanging messages with the America, but were unable to get into direct touch with her and finally gave up in despair. The York proceeded to her destination, Bremen, and the President Harrison, which was running short of fuel, also was forced to head for port.

Meanwhile the America kept going to her course, making only 10 knots or less against the mountainous waves, while millions on shore eagerly followed the radio messages in a tide of the race against death. The public, remembering Captain Fred's heroic rescue of the sailors aboard the Antine, felt a growing confidence that he would succeed where other ships gave up the search and still others refused to turn from their course.

Shortly after 6 o'clock last night the America sailed the Florida if she could see the lights of the liner. From then on Captain Fred, following his radio compass bearings with mathematical precision, rapidly bore down on the disabled freighter.

At 7:10 p. m. the men on the Florida saw the liner's searchlight. Three hours later the gallant rescue had been effected, and another glorious chapter had been written in the lives of men who go down to the sea in ships.

No fears were felt today for the safety of the American tanker Danneville, which sent out an SOS on Tuesday noon and which after the Florida had called for help about 50 miles away, Captain Mathieson of the Danneville reported in a message to the ship's owners in Philadelphia that the tanker was proceeding to Bermuda at a reduced speed.

A previous message had stated that the crew of the Danneville had rigged up a jury rudder. Her regular steering apparatus was disabled by the storm.

Gray, speaker of the house of representatives.

CARDINGTON MAN IS KILLED IN ACCIDENT

Burdett Doubikin, 28, Killed While Delivering Gas to Farm

(Special to The Star)

IDEHIA, Jan. 21—Burdett Doubikin, 28, of near Cardington, driver for the Standard Oil Co., was almost instantly killed when he was caught between the rear end of his truck and a wagon at the Ed. McClaren farm two miles south of here about 31 o'clock this morning. Death was caused from a broken back.

Doubikin was preparing to leave oil at the McClaren farm and had gone to the rear of the truck to remove the cans when the car, which was standing on an incline with the motor running, began moving backward, pinning him between the two vehicles.

It is believed that the accident occurred only a short time before Doubikin's calls for help attracted the attention of Lloyd Noss, of north of here, who stopped at the McClaren home to arrange for the use of a lay knife. Summoning Mr. McClaren from the house the men shored the truck away from Doubikin's body. Doubikin died before he could be carried into the house.

Mr. Doubikin formerly resided in Mt. Gilead and had been employed by the Standard Oil company as a driver for a number of years. He is survived by his widow and one son, his parents, who reside near Ashley, one sister, Emma Doubikin and one brother, Jerry Doubikin.

COUNTY ROAD LIMITS REDUCED BY BOARD

Load and Speed Cut 50 Per Cent During Season of Thaws and Moisture

Load and speed limits on improved county highways have been reduced 50 per cent by action of the board of county commissioners. The reduction becomes effective today and remains in force during periods of thawing and excessive moisture.

The action of the commissioners effects all improved roads with the exception of state highway and inter-county highways.

The reduction, according to members of the board, is made to relieve the strain of heavy loads and high speeds on improved roads when earth under the road is soggy with water. Notice of the reduction has been posted on all roads affected. The reduction makes five tons the maximum load on any one vehicle.

Believes Hoover Seeks To Have Morrow Retain Post As Mexican Ambassador

President-Elect and Diplomat Talk Over Breakfast Table; Discuss Latter's Status After March 4

BY GEORGE R. HOLMES
Marion Star Staff Writer
MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Jan. 24.—Dwight W. Morrow's future status in public service, if any, probably will be determined within the next few days. He came from Nassau week.

The banker diplomat who left his post on as a member of the staff of President-elect Hoover, today at a conference at his home in Miami Beach, discussed with Mr. Hoover the possibility of his retaining the post of ambassador to Mexico.

own status after March 4. Morrow's name has been mentioned with frequency and prominence in connection with the secretaryship of state, but not even his intimates have the banker ever indicated that he would accept it if it were proffered him.

May Retain Post
Those in a position to know say that, all reports to the contrary notwithstanding, Mr. Hoover will not offer the post to Morrow and that this is entirely satisfactory to Morrow. They also say that Mr. Hoover is very anxious to retain the ambassador's services in his administration, preferably in his present post.

It is believed that Morrow will acquiesce in the program. Morrow has been ambassador to Mexico for more than two years. When he went to Mexico City the relations between the two countries were as bad as it was possible for them to be, short of actual intervention. By dint of hard work and some extraordinary shrewdness, things are on the mend in Mexico-American relations. But the job is only half completed. The obnoxious land and petroleum laws, which brought the two countries almost to an open break are still on the statute books in Mexico, although most of the irritation over their application has been removed. There is reason to hope that they will be modified or annulled under the new era of good feeling which Morrow initiated.

Some Mexican Influence
Mr. Hoover wants his work continued, for more reasons than one. He wants Mexican-American relations to continue on the present progressively peaceful plane and he considers Morrow the man to do the directing in Mexico City. Moreover, having just returned from his good will tour of South American and Central American countries, the president-elect is impressed with the knowledge that Mexico would be a valuable link in Latin American affairs, and that the distrust of the Latin people of North American policies has been largely engendered by the almost constant embroilment between Mexico City and Washington.

It is considered far more likely, therefore, that Mr. Hoover urged upon his breakfast guest this morning that he remain on the job in Mexico City, than that he leave this delicate situation to others and accept public service promotion in the shape of a cabinet position. It is doubtful, however, if any public announcement will be made at this time. Mr. Hoover is proceeding about the selection of his cabinet, and the arrangements of his foreign staff in his own way, and that way apparently does not include piecemeal announcements as to personnel and future policies.

The conference with Morrow is probably the last business engagement the president-elect will have for several days. He came to Florida to fish and relax. The fishing starts today. After the Morrow visit, Mr. Hoover plans to share a party with a party of friends for the fishing grounds of the celebrated Florida boys. He does not expect to return to his Belle Isle headquarters for several days, providing the fishing is good and the weather continues as pleasant as it has been.

MAY OFFER LUDLOW

Talk of Launching Early Room for Democrat Is Heard

INDIANAPOLIS—Talk of launching an early boom for Louis Ludlow, congressman elect from the Indianapolis district for the Democratic nomination for vice president in 1932 is heard often here.

Ludlow, who is a former president of the National Press Club, and who has been a Washington newspaper correspondent for many years, made a remarkable showing when he defeated his Republican opponent, Congressman Ralph Updike, in the face of the Republican landslide that occurred in Indiana last November.

It was pointed out by Ludlow's backers that he has thousands of friends among Democratic party leaders in all parts of the country because of his long newspaper career that it would be good strategy to nominate an Indiana man for Vice President in view of the past success in nominating Thomas H. Marshall, former Indiana Governor, for the office.

PLAYLET PRESENTED AT TRINITY CHURCH

Entertainment Given by Members of Intermediate B. Y. P. U.

An unusually large audience filled the Trinity Baptist primary room last night when a clever playlet, "The Latch String," was presented by members of the Intermediate B. Y. P. U. of the church, as the center of interest of the weekly prayer meeting.

The playlet, directed by Miss Marie Hamper, followed the story of a party given by a mother for her children, to which were invited guests representing in person and character boys and girls of all nations, telling their experiences of conversion to Christ and training in Christian school. It was based on "The Latch String."

String," a Baptist missionary magazine published by the Northern Baptist convention, Chicago, and containing missionary news for each day of the month.

The Rev. Lawrence A. Wood, pastor of the church gave a short talk on the main theme of the play.

Parts were taken by Nera Butch, Mary Butch, Ilga Granger, Juanita Holland, Dorothy Gill, Mildred Beaver, Neen Kraus, Kenneth Somerlot and Raymond Hinklin.

Next Wednesday night the parents will give their version of "The Latch String."

CONNECTICUT PLANNING UNIFORM TRAFFIC LAWS

HARTFORD, Conn.—Connecticut may become the first state to impose uniform traffic laws throughout its area. Governor John H. Trumbull has started the movement, and the legislature will be asked, this year, to enact the necessary laws.

"The automobile is just as much an interstate vehicle as the steam railroad," says the governor, "and it should be regulated as such."

Under present conditions what is perfectly legal in one town may cause a driver to receive a heavy fine in the next town.

A convention at which 2000 delegates are expected and to which 700 come, is doing well.

Heirs of Late Payne Whitney Grow $10,000 Richer Every Hour

An artist's idea of the golden shower that rains down upon the Whitney heirs. Upper left, Daniel and Payne Whitney Payson, who with sister Sandra, will inherit the multiplying Whitney millions. Right, Mrs. Charles Shipman Payson, their mother.

ON BRIGHT sunshiny days in New York City there may be seen in a park three children, aged three, two and one, who are growing richer at the amazing rate of $10,000 an hour.

These interesting children, whose fortune is increasing approximately $240,000 a day, are Daniel and Sandra and Payne Whitney Payson, grandchildren of Payne Whitney, who left the almost incredible estate of $191,828,514 when he died, they will become the eventual major heirs to a fortune of tremendous proportions.

If the present rate of increasing value of the estate continues, they undoubtedly will become the richest young people by inheritance in the world.

With about $90,000,000 of the Whitney estate bequeathed to public institutions, charities and friends, the remainder of some $135,000,000 was divided into four parts, the income from two of which will be divided equally between a son of Whitney and Mrs. Charles Shipman Payson, mother of the three children, while the other goes to the widow.

However, little Daniel, Sandra and Payne Whitney Payson are the ultimate living heirs, for they will receive all of their mother's money as well as their grandmother's trust fund.

Undoubtedly many will find interesting material for speculation as to how the children will be affected by their vast fortune. Meanwhile the youngsters continue to accompany their nursemaids to the park, where the two older ones laugh and play, just as other children do, as yet fully unaware of their tremendous wealth.

MORE MONEY READY

$218,000 for Additional Endowment Credited to O. W. U.

DELAWARE, Jan. 24.—The General Education Board of New York has notified officials of Ohio Wesleyan university that $218,000 for additional endowment has been placed to the credit of the university. It was announced here today.

Additional endowment funds of $182,000 will be given Ohio Wesleyan by the General Education Board if alumni and friends of the university pay pledges which they have made to the development program of the university by June 1. The board has a contract with Ohio Wesleyan whereby it gives the university one dollar for every two dollars collected from other sources before June, the total gift of the board not to exceed $100,000.

The gift of the endowment funds means that Ohio Wesleyan has paid off a deficit and other obligations totaling $376,000 existing a year ago, for the General Education Board makes money grants only to institutions free from debt. The board has just completed an examination of the financial condition of the university. This is the first time in many years that Ohio Wesleyan has not faced an accumulated deficit.

SEEK CLUBBER WHO SLEW CHICAGO GIRL

Dies 30 Minutes After Attack Without Regaining Consciousness

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—City and county authorities today joined in a determined hunt for the slayer of pretty Miss Laura Hincholt, 28, found dying on a sidewalk in Blue Island, a suburb, late last night.

The girl's skull had been crushed in by two blows of a wooden club, found near the scene. She was rushed to a hospital where she died 30 minutes later without regaining consciousness.

Mrs. Grace Hanley, who reported the tragedy to police, said she heard a scream and looking from her window saw a man in a long black overcoat drag the girl from the center of the street to the sidewalk. He dropped the body at the curb and ran, Mrs. Hanley said.

"My mother advised me to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment so I went for a free sample. I purchased more, and after using one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Miss Laura R. Nafe, Pearson, Iowa.

YOU'RE LUCKY, FRED. YOU LOOK HEALTHY. MY RHEUMATISM HURTS SO BADLY I CAN'T SLEEP.

I HAVE RHEUMATISM TOO. BUT I USE SLOAN'S LINIMENT. SLOAN'S LINIMENT MAKES THE PAIN GO AWAY. I SLEEP FINE. I FEEL FINE. GET A 35¢ BOTTLE OF SLOAN'S LINIMENT AT ANY DRUG STORE.

RHEUMATISM? Sloan's Liniment KILLS PAIN

Again?

The unenlightened woman who still suffers every month, receives little sympathy when she could so easily end those pains with Midol. This merciful medicine is not a narcotic, you know. Nor does it interfere in the slightest with the normal and natural process of menstruation. It does banish the pain—in five to seven minutes. Because it acts directly on the organs affected. If taken ahead of time, you may avoid a single uncomfortable moment. Try to realize what a truly wonderful discovery this is; it has made at least one form of suffering quite needless. When every drugstore has these harmless tablets isn't it foolish to be a martyr? Midol costs fifty cents, in aluminum case.

*Midol's comfort is not confined to any certain days or age. It relieves at any time of life. Its ease is felt immediately in cases of nervous headache, backache, cramping, hot flashes and all febrile pain peculiar to women.

Morrow County Legislator Discusses Coming Session

MT. GILEAD, Jan. 24—P. P. Ault, Morrow county representative to the general assembly, in an interview, expressed his opinion on several of the questions that will confront Ohio legislators at the different times during the coming sessions.

Mr. Ault is now on his fifth term in this office, and is well acquainted with the bills that have made repeated appearances before the house, and is well informed on most of the forthcoming bills.

Due to the fact that its adoption would not assure relief from careless drivers as well as reckless ones, Mr. Ault stated that he was not entirely satisfied with the drivers' license law bill that will be up at this session. This embodies a provision that all drivers shall be licensed and compelled to undergo an examination before license is issued. Mr. Ault thinks that stricter measures affecting the reckless drivers would give relief on this matter.

The Pence law which Mr. Ault voted for when adopted may be repealed at this session, and due to the fact that too many abuse and misconstrue this enactment, Mr. Ault is in favor of its repeal.

Mr. Ault announced that he was not thoroughly acquainted with the bill providing state police, but from local opinion and outside available information he is in favor of its enactment.

The bill that would decrease the gasoline tax one cent will be hotly contested by Mr. Ault, both in the committee and on the floor. If the bill is not eliminated in the committee, of which Mr. Ault is a member, "if anything, I would favor increasing this bill and remove the burden of road-building from the isolated farmers in rural communities," Mr. Ault said.

A bill that would light state highways is rather a luxury to adopt as long as the Ohio road system needs the aid so badly in other items than lighting, Mr. Ault says.

OVERLOOK BILL

Mr. Gilead School Is Without Light and Water for Few Days

MT. GILEAD, Jan. 24—When the Mt. Gilead school board made a special provision to pay some back bills a few years ago, they overlooked an item of $118 for light and water. The bill remained unpaid until the first of this week, when the local company turned off both light and water because the local board did not pay the back bill.

Mr. Jensen, clerk of the board, stated that it was not through any dilatoriness of the local board, lack of finances, or other reason that the bill was not paid, but that they were not acquainted with the proper steps to be taken in respect of a bill contracted by a former board. When consulted over the telephone by Dr. O. Jensen, State Director of Education, Clifton advised immediate payment. The water and light were again turned on.

Alexander Gray Arrives from Pittsburgh To Take Charge of Body

KENTON, Jan. 24—Alexander Gray, husband of the woman who was killed in an automobile accident here yesterday, arrived in Kenton this morning from Pittsburgh where he is playing a star role in "The Desert Song." Funeral arrangements will be made upon receipt of word from Mrs. Gray's parents in Chicago, whom she was visiting before leaving for Pittsburgh to join Mr. Gray. Mr. Gray was informed of his wife's death following the performance of the show last night.

A sister of Earl Jahagen, who is in a serious condition at Antonio hospital here, also arrived this morning to be at the bedside of her brother. She also is a member of the company playing "The Desert Song."

The father of the injured man, said to be the owner of an electrical scenery company in Oakland, Cal., and for whom the son traveled, wired last night that he would arrive in Kenton Saturday.

The injured man, representing an electrical scenery company, and from papers evidently a very close friend of the Grays, officials said, was accompanying the woman to Pittsburgh to meet her husband and to join his wife. Officials believe he was furnishing scenery for the show.

A second woman, Mrs. Odessa Martin, Akron, who was injured in the crash is recovering in Antonio hospital. She told officials that she was walking back to Akron after her funds became depleted and that she was given a "lift" just this side of Ft. Wayne, Ind., in the car.

The accident occurred when, it is believed, Mrs. Gray started to put on the brakes as the machine approached the Ohio Central railroad grade crossing, west of here, and the machine skidded off the highway, crashed into a warning signal and then lodged against a tree.

BRITAIN FEARS EPIDEMIC OF FLU FROM AMERICA

LONDON—British doctors fear that the recent influenza epidemic in the United States has spread to Britain. Already there are thousands of cases throughout the country, although it has only taken a mild form—head colds, accompanied by slight dizziness and called "staggers" by British doctors are alarmed because the great epidemic of 1918 which caused so many deaths, originated in America before it spread westwards to Europe. Many physicians are especially warning their patients to avoid crowded places and get plenty of open-air exercise.

RUPTURE IS NOT A TEAR

NO BREAK-TO HEAL

Some people have a mistaken idea that rupture is a tear. Rupture is not a tear, but purely a muscular weakness in the abdominal wall. Trusses merely brace these muscles, but do not strengthen them—on the contrary the going of the ordinary truss pad often increases this weakness, because it tends to shut off blood circulation. STUART'S ADHESIVE PLAPAO-PADS are entirely different—being mechanico-chemical applicators—made self-adhesive purposely to keep the muscle-tonic, called "Plapao" continuously applied to the affected parts, and to minimize danger of slipping and painful friction. No straps, buckles or springs attached. Soft as velvet—easy to apply—Inexpensive.

Awarded Gold Medal, Rome, Grand Prix, Paris, Honorable Mention, Panama Pacific Exposition, San Francisco, etc. For almost a quarter century satisfied thousands report success—without delay from work. Stacks of sworn testimonials received even from the far corners of the Earth. Process of recovery is natural, so no subsequent use for trusses.

BILL WOULD PADLOCK GAMBLING HOUSES

Dayton Man Also Seeks To Regulate Installation of Furnaces

APPROPRIATE $6,000,000
Emergency Measure Provides Money for Highway Construction

COLUMBUS, Jan. 24—The Ohio senate today is expected to confirm Governor Cooper's appointment of former Congressman Roscoe C. McCulloch, Canton, O., a Republican member of the state utilities commission. The senate rules committee today unanimously recommended confirmation.

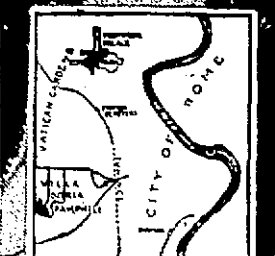

If the appointment is confirmed, McCulloch will serve a four-year term, ending in February, 1933, succeeding Frank Mauller, Chillicothe Republican. Mauller held the office during the past two years because the Ohio senate two years ago failed to confirm former Gov. Vic Donahey's selection of a successor to Mauller whose term expired in February, 1927.

The senate, which reconvenes this afternoon, is scheduled to refer to committees today the bills, introduced by Senators J. Lowry Miller, Middletown, and Miles S. Kahler, Dayton, respectively, providing for the padlocking of gambling places, and to establish a standard code regulating installation of warm-air furnaces in residences.

Would Exact Fees
The Miller bill is designed to stop gambling at horse and dog race tracks and to outlaw baseball pools, slot machines and other devices. The Kahler bill decrees that a $5 license fee must be paid the state before a warm-air furnace can be installed in a residence.

Concerning installing such furnaces would have to pay $100 each year for a state license. The bill, also provision for a state board of three members, appointed by the governor, empowered to enforce regulations of fueling operation of warm-air furnaces.

The Kahler emergency bill appropriating $6,000,000 of state funds for highway construction and reconstruction work during the first half of this year will become effective as law as soon as it is signed by Governor Cooper. After passing the senate the preceding day, the bill passed the house late yesterday. The vote in the house on the bill was 111 to 0. The vote on the emergency clause was 112 to 1. Rep. J. S. Keller, Springfield, voting no.

Has Highway Plan
A plan designed to compensate the state highway department for state highway funds it will lose if the legislature enacts a law eliminating assessments against building property owners for road improvement has been submitted to Governor Cooper by Rep. Dallas M. Sullivan, Union county, chairman of the house highways committee, and Rep. J. H. Norton, Cleveland, a member of this committee.

This plan, which would increase by about $1,000,000 a year the funds which would be available for the highway department, provides that 50 per cent of the portion of the state gasoline tax used for maintenance and repair shall go to the highway department, 15 per cent to the counties, on the basis of motor vehicle population, 15 per cent to the counties on the basis of mileage of county roads and 20 per cent to the counties equally.

The present division gives the highway department 45 per cent, the counties 25 per cent on an equal basis, and the municipalities 30 per cent for repair and maintenance of streets.

Legislators today learned that they will be invited to take their wives to a formal reception to be given by Governor and Mrs. Cooper at the governor's mansion here, from 8 to 10 p. m., Feb. 6.

DIVORCE FIGURES MAKE BRUNETTES APPEAR BAD

PARIS—In married life, blondes wear better than brunettes, if you may believe the word of a French statistician. This gentleman, who usually spends his time figuring out how far things would reach if laid end to end, recently delved into divorce records, and found an average of 77 brunettes for each hundred divorces.

But these figures lie, say defenders of the brunettes. It is true that blondes do not figure so prominently in divorce statistics, they concede, but that is because only 15 per cent of the world's women are the blond that gentlemen supposedly prefer. So the man with a brunette wife or sweetheart need not worry.

The caps of semi-hard rubber for boots worn by miners to protect their feet have been found more durable and efficient than caps made of steel or hard rubber.

Hard Games Mark Industrial Contests in Star Auditorium; Two Quints Tied for Second Place When Upset Occurs; Power-Hockings Lose Close One

Two teams are tied for second place and the league leaders are in front by two full games as a result of contests in the industrial basketball league last night in which the Steam Shovel defeated C. D. & M. featured. Osgood continued to glide along in the league winning its games by small margins. Last night, after a furious battle, the Bohannon-Excavators were moved out by a 22 to 20 score. Cline scored the winning basket for Osgood in the last few minutes of play after receiving a long pass under the hoop. Leffler led both teams in scoring with a total of nine points while Cline was high for the winners with four baskets. The dope bucket was upset by the Steam Shovel when the second-place Electric aggregation was brought down a notch under a smothering 31 to 16 defeat. The losers were handicapped with Applegate out of the lineup. The Shoreline led throughout the contest with Ward and Lingo doing most of the victors' scoring. Each counted eight points. Cream, of the Electrics, also scored eight points. Power-Hockings played up a chance to break into the win column when they were defeated by the College-Malleable five, 20 to 28. The score was tied at the half 10 all and in the third period the losers held a two point lead. The long shooting of Wainfor was the feature of the game. He scored nine points. Jacobs gave the game to the College-Malleable by scoring 17 points.

DELAWARE, Jan. 24.—Three members of the undefeated Ohio Wesleyan basketball team which is now leading in the Buckeye conference championship race are now playing their final season as Bishop captains. They are from left to right, John Halliday, Gallipolis, guard; Harry Hinzler, Cleveland, forward; and Burlin Mitchell, Belleue, center. Halliday is a three-sport star and has been a member of the basketball and football teams at Wesleyan for three years. He is a halfback in football and also is broad jumper on the track team which last year won the Buckeye intercollegiate athletic conference and Big Six titles. Hinzler is playing his third year as a regular forward on the basketball team. He is also a shortstop on the baseball club. Mitchell, who was forced out of basketball last year due to a football injury, is back in his 1029-27 form and is proving a strong defensive man this season due to his size. Mitchell is six feet, four inches in height. The Ohio Wesleyan basketball team outclasses anything in the Western conference this season, comparative

STRIBLING'S FLIGHTS OFF, DEMPSEY SAYS

Promoter of Miami Beach Match Peeved; Orders Fighters To Report for Training After Bouts on Friday Night; Quarters Are Arranged

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Jan. 24.—Jack Dempsey was peeved today. A newspaper story saying that Young Stribling had taken another airplane flight was the reason. "Fighters that are on my card have got to stay on the ground and ride on trains," said Dempsey, the promoter. His recent order to Stribling that the flying was off until the fight with Jack Sharkey here Feb. 27 was repeated in a sharp telegram to the Georgian. Stribling was told, furthermore, that his last ring appearance before the Sharkey fight would be against Jack Smith in New Orleans tomorrow night. Sharkey has no dates scheduled after his clash with K. O. Christner in Madison Square Garden.

Both fighters will report here immediately after those bouts. Dempsey has arranged quarters for Sharkey at the New Fleetwood, which was Dempsey's home two seasons ago, and Stribling at the William Penn. Both are but a hop, skip and jump from the Miami Beach Knead club, where the fighters will train, and Flamingo Park, the new site of the bout.

Dempsey and William F. Carey, president of the Madison Square Garden Corp., have moved into their new headquarters in the luxurious ocean front home formerly occupied by Carl G. Fisher. It will be the fight headquarters from now until the bout.

HOLDING OUT

Cochrane Sends Unsigned Contract to Athletic Team

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 24.—Although neither the Athletic management nor Cochrane himself will officially admit it, Mickey Cochrane, star backstop of the Philadelphia Athletics, and the most valuable player of the 1925 American league campaign is a hold-out. Mickey has returned his contract to the Athletic officers unsigned and expects to have a conference within the next few days. He says that if he does not get his salary demands he will consider retiring from the game.

MARION VOLLEYBALL TEAM WILL PLAY COLUMBUS SIXTEEN

Locals To Open Home Season on Y Court Tonight

MARION volleyball fans will get their first taste of big game action this season when the Marion Y. M. C. A. outfit at the local court tonight tangles with the Columbus Y. M. C. A. outfit at the local court. The Columbus outfit holds a 10 out-of-five game victory over the Marion coached team taken during the season at the capital city. Fast team work from start to finish is the main bet of the Marion while the Marionites are a little getting started but look like once they get on their feet. The visitors' manager, will make fans open up their eyes. He is reported to be the hardest driver of Columbus since the day when H. Gowdy, big league baseball player on the local court.

If Rodney Hume, Marion's premier at volleyball, is able to get the Marion lineup things will be little different from a Marion standpoint.

Coach F. O. Rudolph of the Marion team, expects a win and will greatly surprised if his boys do come through.

The games will get under way 7:30 o'clock with the winner required to take three out of five games.

Local Central Labor Union Installs Officers for Year, Outline Program of Work

Don B. Clarke, President, Announces Organization Hopes To Double Membership in 1929; C. A. Bolin Reviews
Record of Last 10 Years

Clarence A. Bolin, the first president of the Marion Central Labor Union, installed officers of the organization for 1929 at an open meeting and smoker held in the union
headquarters last night.

Don B. Clarke, the re-elected president, outlined 1929 plans in a brief
talk during the installation.

"The Central union," he said,
"hopes to double the membership during the year. It will cooperate with all trade unions in the future whether or not they are affiliated with the central organization."

Other officers installed last night
were Hays Maynard, vice president,
J. K. Ruppert, general secretary,
Henry E. Barker, treasurer; Joseph
Meeker, sergeant at arms; W. E.
Finch, Eugene Smith and Arthur J.
Owens, trustees.

Next meeting Feb. 13

The meeting last night was the second smoker and open meeting held
by the Central Labor union this winter. Another is planned for Feb. 15.

More than 150 were present last night. John W. Jockel, of Cleveland,
state secretary and treasurer of the Bridgeway Union, the scheduled
speaker, was unable to attend.

Mr. Bolin, the installing officer,
gave a short talk in which he reviewed the growth and progress of the organization in the last 10 years.
Mr. Bolin is the only Marion representative of the American Federation of Labor. He is an organizer for the federation. He closed his remarks by congratulating the central
union and its officers for their efforts to promote a better understanding of the aims of the trade union movement in Marion.

Two Additions

According to a report given by Secretary Ruppert, two local unions
affiliated with the central body last year and two others are already
planning to do so this year.

Charles J. Long, recently elected
assistant general chairman of express division of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, and Loren J. Myers,
president of Maple lodge No. 2107,
the local express union, gave a report of a recent convention held in Indianapolis.

The local bricklayers' union has doubled its membership within the last two months, according to reports given by W. E. Davison, president. Frank C. Robinson, president of Marion lodge No. 825, Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, and Glen Kellogg, president of Erie lodge No.
1008, Brotherhood of Railway Carmen, told of work in their respective organizations.

Business Men Speak

Two local business firms were represented at the meeting. Horace Bellinger, of the Marion County
Lumber Co. gave a short talk. The Millard Hunt Co. was the other firm represented.

L. Don Jones, active in local American Legion circles, gave a short talk in which he asked express men to become interested in legion activities.

Lloyd M. Crograve, publicity agent
and educational adviser for the Ohio State Federation of Labor, will be the speaker at the meeting to be held Feb. 13. Mr. Crograve will talk on labor unionism and organization. The scheduled speaker has a wide reputation as a writer of labor magazines. Mr. Crograve is also expected to appear here in March for a second address.

CITY DEPARTMENT ON PAYING BASIS

Garbage Collection Service Receipts Exceed Expenses. Report Shows

Marion's garbage collection department, infant of the city's activities, has been placed on a self-supporting basis in less than four years of its existence, according to figures released today by O. A. Benedict, superintendent of the department.

During the year just closed the department collected a total of $25,546.91 and during the same time expenses of the department amounted to $24,594.18. These figures run up until Jan. 15, the time when the year for this department closes.

The department started to function on April 1, 1925 and during that year a total of 1,400 persons subscribed for the service. At the time the books were closed for the year a total of 4,100 persons were taking advantage of the service offered by the department.

Preparations are now being made for an increase in customers this year. It is expected that more than 600 more names will be placed on the list before the end of the next 12 months. Collections in this department have been excellent, according to Mr. Benedict, citizens realizing that a back bill means the discontinuance of the service, which has proven a big help.

An efficient system of collection has been worked out by Mr. Benedict, trucks, wagons and trailers patrolling the city during the early morning hours.

With the town growing every year it is expected that the collection facilities will have to be increased within the next few years.
